

Dolores Redondo

Dolores Redondo is one of the best-known Spanish authors and achieved worldwide success with her trilogy about the municipality of Baztan. In addition to the true story of the murder, she also sheds light on many myths and peculiarities of the local population and thus creates a cultural awareness of the region. In addition, Ella Redondo became interested in story writing and law from an early age, which influences her work to this day.

What I like about the writer:

I prefer this book:

The books are published in the following language: